

John Freeman – Eastham Land Records 1645 - 1750

John Freeman arrived in Plymouth as a young man in 1635. He was the youngest son of Edmund Freeman who settled Sandwich. John married Mercy Prence. She was the daughter of Gov. Thomas Prence and his wife Patience Brewster who was the daughter of William Brewster.

John and Mercy were in Eastham by 1650. He was appointed to the group of Purchasers. He was prominent in Eastham affairs as was his father-in-law Thomas Prence. John represented Eastham in the Colony Court most years from 1652 to 1666. He was chosen assistant to the Governor in 1667 and he was reelected to that position every year until 1692.

John commanded the Barnstable County Regiment as a Major and he fought in King Phillip's war. He died in 1719 in his 98th year. The gravestone for Major John Freeman is in Cove Burying Ground next to the gravestone for his wife Mercy (Marcy on her gravestone) who died in 1711 at age eighty.
